Courtroom 21 Holds Second Courthouse Renovation and Construction Conference

Williamsburg, VA, November 25, 2003

The Courtroom 21 Project will present the “2004 Courtroom 21 Courthouse Construction and Renovation Conference” on March 18-19, 2004 at the William & Mary Law School in Williamsburg, Virginia.

The conference is designed for judges, court administrators, and executive officers of court-related agencies who are interested in, or will be involved in, courthouse construction or renovation projects.

Special emphasis will be placed on points in the construction and renovation process where critical decisions about technology and security should be made. Examples of discussion topics include: identifying and analyzing facility needs and the options available to meet those needs, choosing an architect and selecting an appropriate contracting strategy, and understanding the roles and decision-making responsibilities of key participants during the planning and construction/renovation stages.

Faculty for the conference will include: Martin Gruen, Courtroom 21 Deputy Director for Courtroom Design and Technology; Tom Pinkerton, AIA, an architect with twenty-five years of experience designing federal and state courthouses; and Gerald Thacker, a consultant and former commissioner of the U.S. Public Building Service and former Assistant Director for Facilities and Security at the Administrative Offices of the U.S. Courts.

Registration is $500 per person for all registrations received on or before February 6, 2004 and $550 per person for all registrations received after February 6, 2004 . A discounted registration of $275 per person is available to Courtroom 21 Court Affiliate Members. To register, or for additional information, call (757) 221-2494, fax (757) 221-3708, email nvarchlatlwm.edu, or log on to the Courtroom 21 website at www.legaltechcenter.net.

The Courtroom 21 Project is a joint project of the William & Mary Law School and the National Center for State Courts.
